EMAIL COMMUNICATION AGREEMENT

Dr. Altemeier will use reasonable means to protect the security and confidentiality of any information sent and received by e-mail. Clients should understand that there are known and unknown risks that may affect the privacy of personal health care information when using e-mail to communicate. Those risks include, but are not limited, to:

- E-mail may be forwarded, printed, and stored in numerous paper and electronic forms and be received by many intended and unintended recipients without a patient's knowledge or agreement.
- E-mail may be sent to the wrong address by any sender or receiver.
- E-mail may be easier to forge than handwritten or signed papers.
- Copies of e-mail may exist even after the sender or the receiver has deleted his or her copy.
- E-mail service providers have a right to archive and inspect e-mails.
- E-mail may be intercepted, altered, or used without detection or authorization.
- E-mail may spread computer viruses.
- E-mail delivery is not guaranteed.

I am aware of the risks associated with confidentiality and privacy.

It is acceptable to contact me by email. I can be contacted at the following email address:
